Celebrating its decennial,
antipodes café presents
«el yuyo y el juego»

With a deliberately artless fashion, this puzzling edition intertwines
handcrafted and industrial materials, production and printing processes for introducing the "yuyo manifesto" in form and content.

Pamphlet:

Double-sided print:

– side a) "Poster".

Title, credits, manifiesto
yuyo (in Spanish)

– side b) "Instructions" and 8 translations of the manifesto (English,
French, Portuguese,
German, Welsh, Basque, Polish, Norwegian)

Pamphlet: side a.
folded: title

Pamphlet:

- Lokta paper. NTFP. Nepalese wildcrafted, handmade artisan paper, made from wild daphne shrubs (underutilized species).
 - Risograph print.
 - Inks: rice bran oil.
 - Plantable.
- The paper includes seeds from 10 wild flowering plants from the Americas.
- 100% Compostable

Pamphlet: side a . (details)

The collaboratively concocted list of attributes of the so-called unwanted plants defining this manifesto for social criticism, lay bare strategical concepts found across antipodes cafés oeuvre and modus operandi.

The publication features the manifesto in languages of places where the organization performed varied cultural initiatives during the past decade, and an invitation to apperceive it on its appropriation.

Pamphlet: side b
"Instructions" and 8 translations of the "yuyo manifesto" (English, French, Portuguese, German, Welsh, Basque, Polish, Norwegian)

Following those instructions and using the included tools, one can put the manifesto in action. One can correct it, change it and even germinate it, as all included artisan papers are embedded with seeds from 10 wild flowering plants.
